

CODING CLUB

Would your child like to create an interactive computer game, or get an introduction to coding, or program a robot to do fun tasks? This is the club for all the above.

The class is divided into three segments:

- + Programming and computer game design using KoduGamelab by Microsoft
- + Introductory coding by Scratch
- + Introduction to programming of Lego Mindstorms Robots using LabView

The program allows students to work at their age and skill level, therefore both new and returning students are welcome.
